
Turnes Reunions, 1910 and 1979

In the top photo is a picture taken back in 1910 at the first Family Reunion of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Turnes family. Many of the persons in the top photo are area residents and are still living in Appomattox. Can you identify any of these persons?

Many other family members were present, including great-grandchildren, cousins and in-laws.

Change In Schedule Announced

The Bethel United Methodist Church and the Mount Comfort United Methodist Church wish to announce a change in the preaching schedule. Both churches will begin weekly services on the first Sunday in October, the 7th.

At Bethel, located on Route 608 about halfway between Concord and Oakville, services on the first Sunday of each month will begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. On the second Sunday of each month, services will be held at 11:15 a.m. On all other Sundays, including any fifth Sundays, worship will be conducted at 10:00 a.m. Each week, Sunday school classes will follow the worship service as usual, except on the second Sunday of each month, when Sunday school will convene at 10:00 a.m.

The preaching schedule at Mount Comfort, located about halfway between Oakville and Gladstone just off Route 26, will also change. On the first and third Sundays of each month, worship will continue to be held at 11:00 a.m. On the second and fourth Sundays, worship will be at 9:00 a.m. Any fifth Sundays will have worship at 11:00 a.m. Sunday school, as in the past, will always be held at 10:00 a.m.

The pastor of both churches, the Rev. James M. Becker, of Oakville, is very pleased that they have agreed to this change. "I believe that having weekly services will strengthen the spiritual life of my people," he said. "A regular commitment of time and talent should remind everyone of obligations to God. I believe that these churches will become stronger, not only in terms of membership and attendance and finances, but also in their community life together."

Mrs. Virginia Babcock, left, is shown talking with Mrs. Diane Matthews Haas, newly appointed staff member to the mental health clinic.

Two New Staff Members Appointed To Mental Health Clinic Staff

An expansion of psychological and psychiatric services to children and youth in Central Virginia has been announced by Central Virginia Mental Health Services. Dr. Robert D. Gardner, executive director, stated that these additional services were a result of requests of other children and youth related community agencies and from needs experienced by 65 key professionals in this region in a recently conducted mental health survey.

Two new staff members have been appointed to the mental health clinic staff for meeting the needs for evaluation and treatment of children and youth in Central Virginia.

Mrs. Diane Matthews Haas of Lexington, Ky., has been appointed child psychologist and Dr. Philip Halapin of Charlottesville has been named a regular consulting child psychiatrist.

In making the announcement, Dr. Gardner stated, "We are very happy to see this development in our program. The need for more services to children and youth in the heavy case loads of existing staff prompted the addition of these new child oriented for our programs and by other children youth agencies in our community."

Mrs. Haas is in process of completing her ph.D degree in child psychology at The University of Kentucky. Mrs. Haas worked in the mental health clinic before pursuing her graduate work.

Dr. Halapin is in private practice in Charlottesville and is a former chief resident in child psychistry at The University of Virginia Hospital. Mrs. Haas is working directly with children and youth, and provides consultation to children and youth agencies such as Opportunity House, Crossroads House, and the Social Service agencies throughout the district and others.

Dr. Halapin is serving as consultant to the staff of the clinic regarding critical and difficult cases involving children and youth. He will see children or youth only when he deems it necessary in order to give advice to the primary care counselor. Dr. Halapin and Mrs. Haas will also hold regular clinical staff conferences with all clinic staffers to discuss unique cases. Dr. Halapin will meet with the clinic staff regularly on Tuesday afternoons. With the addition of Dr. Halapin it is hoped that regular fulltime staff wil have the consultation they need to provide care to their children and youth clients.

Funding for their new personnel was provided through a special grant from Division of Justice and Crime Prevention in collaboration with the State Department of Mental Health.

Mrs. Haas holds a B.A. degree in psychology from Randolph Macon Women's College; and her Master's degree from the University of Kentucky. She held a fellowship at the University of Virginia with Department of Psychiatry in 1973.

Dr. Halapin, a native of Connecticut, did his undergraduate work at Clark University in Worchester, Mass. and his graduate work at Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Texas.

Agency personnel desiring consultation services for children and/or youth should call Mrs. Haas at 845-9048 or Sue Holland at 847-9091.

Revival Continues At Vera Church of God

Revival services at the Vera Church of God are continuing through Sunday, September 30th, at 7:30 p.m. nightly.

The Rev. Herman Hudson is guest evangelist and this revival has been so successful that the second week of services was arranged.

The public is cordially invited to visit Vera Church of God and hear these inspiring services.
